

Fall IMPACT Symposium

“The Art of Compromise”

This two-part symposium will explore the multiple dimensions of compromise, its applications in diverse situations and its relationship to issues of trust, power, and conflict.

Why is compromise an art? And have we lost that art?

Keynote Address and Reception

Tuesday, October 22, 2013

6:00 p.m. Reception

6:30 p.m. Remarks

McCord Auditorium, Dallas Hall

Southern Methodist University

“Compromise or Appeasement?

Proslavery Political Triumphs, 1787 to 1861.”

Paul Finkelman

President William McKinley Distinguished
Professor of Law, Albany Law School

Please RSVP by Tuesday, October 15th to

Meghan Akeman

makeman@smu.edu or 214.768.4207.

Panel Discussion

Wednesday, October 23, 2013

3:00 p.m. Program

5:00 p.m. Reception

Hughes-Trigg Student Center Ballroom East

Southern Methodist University

Featuring

Moderator Krys Boyd, Host of Think for KERA Radio

Calvin C. Jillson, Department of Political Science,
Dedman College

Kate Canales, Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering

Edward F. Countryman, William P. Clements
Department of History, Dedman College

Chris R. Logan, Department of Psychology,
Dedman College

Daniel Rainey, Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education & Human Development

